Mul-T-Lock is a world leader in developing, manufacturing and marketing high security products for institutional, commercial, industrial and residential applications. Since 2000, the company has been part of the ASSA ABLOY Group.

Today, Mul-T-Lock is fully owned by ASSA ABLOY, the world's leading manufacturer and supplier of locking solutions, with an annual turnover of more than €3.3 billion and more than 29,000 employees worldwide. ASSA ABLOY is traded on the Stockholm Stock Exchange.

Mul-T-Lock's Mission

With its readiness to rapidly respond to any challenge, Mul-T-Lock provides peace of mind by offering comprehensive, customized, top-security cylinder locking solutions and service worldwide.

Leading-Edge Design and Manufacture

Mul-T-Lock began operations with a patented fourway lock, and over the years has developed hundreds of high-security locks, cylinders, padlocks and complementary products. Emphasis is placed on R&D and design and the company's factories are fully automated, using SAP-ERP systems, the most advanced computer programs and robotics, and specially designed machinery, much of which is manufactured by Mul-T-Lock itself.

The company has a staff of mainly highly skilled personnel who have worked for many years at the company. Mul-T-Lock products comply with the toughest international standards such as UL, CEN, VDS, SKG, CPC and A2P.

The company has received three certifications from the Standards Institution of Israel: ISO 9001:2000, ISO 14001, SI 18001.

Innovative Products – Safety, Security & Convenience

The company holds hundreds of international patent registrations for its innovative products, which provide safety, security and convenience.
